

Trunking

WME-04 trunking is specifically designed to cover wires. The trunking is divided into 3 sections to separate power from data (interconnecting leads between Hi-Fi equipment) and speaker cables. It was originally designed to complement our wall-mounted tables and equipment racks.

The trunking has also been used to cover central heating pipes, network cabling and even a gas pipe!

The trunking comes in three standard lengths of 1.0m, 2.0m and 3.0m. It comes with all the necessary fixings and detailed fitting instructions.

Mode-AL also offer a cut to length service if you have a specific use for the trunking that requires special lengths.

If you have any special requirements, please do not hesitate to contact us.
